Paul Egolf Dies at 66; CIA Expert, Inventor

A memorial service will be held at 3 p. m. today at the Lee Funeral Home, 4th st. and Massachusetts ave. ne., for Paul H. Egolf Sr., inventor and former Central Intelligence Agency information specialist. Mr. Egolf, died of a stroke at his home Thursday. He was 66 and lived at 1332 E. Capitol st.

A native of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mr. Egolf came here in the 40s and joined the intelligence agency. He resigned in 1953 to devote his time to his inventions, the most successful of which is a device which creates apparent motion in advertising displays.

Mr. Egolf was a model railroad enthusiast, and according to his family had model railroad exhibits in World's Fairs in France and the United States.

Surviving are his wife, Rose; three sons, Paul H. Jr., of West Chester, Pa.; Albert, of Arizona, and Norman, of Tacoma, Wash., and a daughter, Mrs. Sunnie Chatterly, of Redwood, Calif.
